EXPERIENCE THE SAVIO DIFFERENCE!

President's Welcome

St. Dominic Savio lived from 1842-1857. He died just before his 15th birthday. Our school honors him in name and in spirit as we strive to embody his example, an example that was seen for only 15 years, but continues to last as a beacon of goodness 166 years later.

This report attempts to summarize the blessings and efforts of everyone connected to our school. The parish communities, alumni, parents, families, friends, faculty and staff, and students who choose Savio and support Savio are amazing, generous, hopeful, faith-filled and appreciated. As you read through this report, please know we needed to share a summary of information, highlighted activities, and a broad snapshot. Each individual donor, donation, program, event, activity, and success could not be listed. Each of these, however, are vital to the fabric of who we are and what we are about. Each is important.

We thank you for your part in supporting our school last year and we humbly ask you to do so again, with excitement, zeal, and hope. We welcome the new: our principal, a full freshmen class, upperclassmen transfers who want a faith-filled change, and new faculty and staff who step in to join the family. We welcome back the core: returning faculty and staff committed to excellence, upperclassmen who edge closer to their dreams after graduation, and parents and supporters who help make it all happen.

So join us as we move forward with momentum, learn more about our ongoing efforts to provide for the needs of the school, but even more so, reach for the additional supports required to motivate, innovate, and activate our students to grow in heart, mind, body, and soul.

As St. Dominic Savio lived his life, may we also live ours. He had full commitment to his faith, viewed Jesus and Mary as his "best friends", and when near death said, "What beautiful things I see." Let us all focus on the beautiful things we see for the 2023-2024 school year.

Thank you, take care and God bless.

Advancement Appreciation

In reflecting on the past year, it is uplifting to witness our students enhance the unique gifts that God has given them and to see them thrive both academically and spiritually. Of course, this does not just happen. It takes us all coming together to create and support the environment to bring our mission alive. It is also, in part, due to our parent community being engaged alongside the students and staff - celebrating, worshipping, serving, and praying together in fellowship.

The results of our fundraising efforts together are depicted in this annual report and have made a significant impact on ALL these events in one way or another. Despite the unsure job market and rising costs of nearly everything, many in the Savio community (parents, grandparents, alumni, alumni families, and friends of Savio) stepped forward and gave valuable time, talent, and treasure to support the school, our students, faculty, and staff.

The process of forming servant leaders happens every day on the St. Dominic Savio campus. Most of your annual giving supports every aspect of what happens here at Savio. It also helps fund our commitment to the tuition assistance process, which affords one out of every four students the opportunity to have a Catholic education.

As you read through this report, I hope you see the smiles, the spark in the eyes, and the spirit-filled hearts of the students you helped support. My profound gratitude goes out to each of you who had a part in our success this year. We look forward to our partnership continuing next year and well into our future so that Savio will thrive and grow. Your impact will continue to shape the future leaders in our community and in our Church.

With humble gratitude,

Financial Report

We offer our humble appreciation to each person who sacrificed the gifts of time, talent, and treasure to support St. Dominic Savio this past year. Through the generosity of our Eagle community, we were able to elevate the Savio experience for EVERY student in ALL areas. This included not only supporting the day-to-day operating budget but additional resources for athletics, many of our sports teams, robotics and STEM related curriculum, and of course, our tuition assistance program.
